Our complaints code of practice

At toob we are committed to delivering a fast, stable, responsive, and inclusive broadband service that helps our customers make the most of the digital world; and we realise that on rare occasions you might feel that isn't happening.

It's important for you to let us know what you think about our service, and one way you might choose to do this is to make a formal complaint.

Our complaints code of practice guides you how to make a complaint directly to us, and lets you know who else can help you if you feel we haven't been able to resolve your complaint to your satisfaction.

It covers toob's "relevant customers" and applies to you if you subscribe to our full fibre broadband service and are:

- an individual; or
- a small business.

You can still contact us to raise a concern or make a complaint if you are not one of our relevant customers; but please note that we cannot refer you on to an Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) scheme in the exceptional event that we cannot resolve your complaint.

In the first instance, you might find it helpful to check our help and support page found at www.toob.co.uk/support to see if there is information that can help you.

If you would like to raise a concern regarding data protection, please see the details of how to do this in our privacy policy on our website at www.toob.co.uk/legal.

2. How we resolve complaints

We will always investigate every complaint we receive and try to resolve it within 28 days of it being received. Once we have found a solution to the problem, we will let you know and give you a chance to consider what we have done and decide whether you accept this. If you are happy with the result, please let us know and we will close your complaint. We will give you enough time to do this (14 days). If we don't hear from you by the end of that time, we will remind you that the complaint is being closed. Don't worry if you need extra time, just let us know if you do.

3. If you feel your complaint is not resolved

We always do our best to resolve your complaint and realise on extremely rare occasions that might not be the case.

In the unlikely event that we can't identify a way to resolve your complaint, or you feel our attempts haven't resolved the complaint to your satisfaction we will refer you to an Alternative Dispute Resolution (ADR) scheme. You can also contact the scheme direct if you haven't heard from us within 8 weeks of lodging your complaint with us.
